Description: The Arizona Education Progress Meter was co-developed by Education Forward Arizona and the Center for the Future of Arizona. The Education Progress Meter provides reliable information that tells policymakers where we stand as a state on issues ranging from access to quality early learning to postsecondary attainment. During this Roundtable Convening, mayors will review website content and features as well as data for the state, counties, and municipalities. Additionally, speakers will share highlights from a new study on the economic impact of postsecondary attainment (Education Progress Meter indicator #7).
